

Notes:

Navigation supply is currently only used for the Compass Light. It would be possible to run a thin cable up the mast from this supply for a white masthead light for lighting compliance.